CONSTITUTION AND SUN.

Evening Edition.

ATLANTA, AUGUST 22, 1873.

Summary of State News.

DALTON.

The amount of taxable property in Dalton is $647,193. ——A third institute of learning has been started in Dalton, and called the Peabody Institute.—— On Monday evening a drunken man, in Worth's saloon, was carelessly handling a pistol, when the weapon accidentally fired, discharging the contents of one barrel into an inoffensive negro who was standing near. The negro died Tuesday, leaving a wife and two or three children. The shootist has been arrested.——Hon. John L. Hopkins, Judge of the Alb'a circuit, was in Dalton on Tuesday.——The Rev. Dr. Wilkes is lecturing the Dalonites on educational matters.—North Georgia Citizen.

WAYNESBORO.

LaGrande Johnston, eldest son of Rev. George S. and Mrs. Emma Johnston, died in Waynesboro on Thursday, August 15th, of typhoid fever.——A Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry is soon to be established at Waynesboro ——The Good Templars of Waynesboro are earnestly working for the cause of temperance, and are meeting with abundant success.——Caterpillars have made their appearance in various sections of Burke county. They have done very little damage so far, but are multiplying marvelously fast. The Waynesboro Academy is now under charge of Rev. John N. Wilcox.—Enterprise.

ROME.

Died, in Kingston on Tuesday night, the 19th, Mr. Thomas R. Couch, after an illness of ten days. He was a much esteemed citizen of Barlow county.——Chas. Morris, a well known United States Deputy Marshal, has been hanging around Rome for several days with mischief in one eye and whisky in the other. Several parties have been notified that Uncle Sam has a few unpaid obligations against them, and a number of barrels of whisky have been confiscated.—Commercial.

A young Roman walked home with his sweetheart the other afternoon, and undertook to show her how beautifully he could leap the fence in front of the house. Now, it so happened that the father of this young lady, as a gentle admonition to his light-legged neighbors, had the day before purchased a few fine old bull pup, and it further happened that this same pup, being overcome by the heat and confusion of the morning, was taking his evening nap just on the other side of that fence. The young gentleman cleared the fence gracefully, but he didn't clear the dog. He did not stand on the dog's tail above half a minute, however, before he discovered that his new clothes had depreciated in value more than two-thirds, and that his hide was following suit. The remonstrances of the young gentleman, and the reprimings of his sweetheart aimed at her father and big bad, who appeared upon the scene just as the young man had succeeded in extricating himself from the embraces of the dog for the sixteenth time, and at the sacrifice of his remaining coat tail, two yards of pantaloons, and four inches of skin. While the dog was chewing up coat tail, together with a pair of lavender kids and a perfumed handkerchief, the young gentleman, supported on either side by his friends, repaired to the house. The ensuing half hour was devoted to the manufacturing of plasters and the sewing on of patches, and by means of a drug and a couple of mattresses the wretched young man was finally transported home. He has quit jumping entirely, and will return to business next month.

COVINGTON.

Dump cole has been "drawing up" some of the Covington young men recently.——But few of our mercants will go North this fall to buy goods.—— Mr. Elijah Hinton, an old citizen of Oxford died at his home on Wednesday last of cholera morbus; aged 78 years.——The season for fruit bats is here, and the campaign promises to be lively.——Mr. T. S. Young was married to Miss R. J. Hollingsworth on the 12th instant, by Rev H. Quigg.——Rev. Mr. Kinpelew opened his school at the Covington Male Academy on Monday morning with a fair prospect of liberal patronage.——A young lady in this county arose the other morning from her couch and found a huge bighead moccasin larger than a man's arm coiled up between the sheets, where, to all appearances it had been by the side of the sleeping girl all night. In the attempt to kill the snake it escaped, still in its mouth and two bodies were pulled from the reptiles head before it would let go.—Enterprise.

AUGUSTA

We have great complaint of the rapid spread of rust in the growing cotton crop of this county, particularly on the light gumsoil lands.——Wednesday afternoon Robert Jay, colored, was arrested in the act of stealing pomegranates from the premises of Mr. H. A. Dennis. Robert now rejoices in jail.——The caterpillar is spreading in Richmond county.—Constitutionalist.

GREENESBORO.

We notice that work has been commenced on the addition to the academy building which, it is expected, will be completed in about a fortnight.——There was a grand gathering of the farmers of Houston county at Fort Valley on Friday last. Fully 5,000 persons were present. The meeting was in the interest of the Patrons of Husbandry.——Mr. Thomas Wilson, an old and highly respected citizen of Bairdstown, died last Monday.—Herald.

TALBOTTON.

The caterpillars have done no material damage to the crop in this county as yet, but the boll worm is playing thunder.——There will be a grand masquerade ball at Chalybeate Springs on the 4th of September.——Two deaths occurred among the colored people last week.——The editor of the standard complains that "some low, contemptible thief stole a comb and brush from us last week, and we will give any reader of this man our old white hat if he will deliver us the scoundrel well tarred and feathered."——Mrs. M. L. Martin died at her residence on Monday night.—Standard.

MARIETTA.

There is a young lady living in the upper portion of Cobb county who is only seventeen years of age, who has one hundred and fifty pounds, and is very handsome.——The man who never saw a train was in town the other day. He threw himself outside of a quart of whisky, and seemed to look at it. Just then the engine whooped to tout. There was a slight dust, accompanied by a few rapid steps, and the man has not been heard of since.—Journal.

COLUMBUS

Mr. Joseph Buhrer, a German, who a few weeks ago attempted suicide by taking a two ounce vial of laudanum in this city, again attempted the rash act about five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, this time with a pistol and attempted drowning. He shot himself on the bank of the river and jumped in. A fisherman heard the latter plunge, and the pistol ball went back of the brain without passing through, so he won't die after all. It is supposed that his next effort will either be with a hogshead of nitro glycerine, or a small sized torpedo.—Enquirer.

CARROLL.

Considering the large number of dogs that daily and nightly infest this community, we are impressed with a belief that this would be a capital place to start a sausage factory.—Times.

☞ The Boston Post says: "After the recent exposures in the Republican party, the Democrats are summoned to stand firmer than before. By reiterating their determination to adhere to principles whose abandonment is the whole cause of present troubles, they are doing their best to testify to that living faith. And the Maryland Democrats answer promptly to the proclamation of those of Maine, taking up the noble declaration of their Ohio brethren and making them the platform of the Democracy of Maryland and the Union.

"In the face of such vitality as this the Republican journals assume that the Democratic party is in a moribund condition. It is renewing its youth instead. The Administration is yet to find that its vigor will cost much severe exertion to contest. Everywhere over the Union the cry for reform is going up, and the corruptions of Congress and the Administration are denounced by the people. The Democracy have organized the opposition, and must conduct it to eventual victory."

☞ A letter from a seductive Peruvian bathing resort says: "In certain months of the year scorpions lie around among the stones, the bite of which is death. A more frightened creature than a scorpion, as well as a more ugly one, I never saw. Alarmed at the footfalls of any one over their hiding places among the rocks, they are much more frightened than the person himself, and at once beat a precipitate retreat, when they can generally beaten and stoned to death. I once got one in my shoe, and a friend bathing had one to run up the loose sleeve of her bathing jacket, and as suddenly run out again. But when they are cornered beyond all hopes of escape, they will bite you, and their bite is always death."

MATT CARPENTER AND SUMNER.—R.—His introduction to Washington was under brilliant auspices, was it not?

G.—It may be considered so. Sumner patronized him, as he does, or rather did, every bright new comer. Sumner referred to Matt, when he took his seat in the Senate, as "the brilliant young statesman from the West." The next day the old man was surprised to have passed to him the query, evidently in Matt's handwriting, "Why doesn't the devil learn to skate?" with the solution appended in the same handwriting, "Where is h—l would he get the ice?" Sumner was rather quiet after that.—Chicago Times.

☞ Ann Eliza will enter the lecture field under the title of No. 17, which has no reference to the size of the shoes.

NOON DISPATCHES.

GOTHAM GATHERINGS.

THE WEATHER—IMMIGRANTS—STEWART'S WIDOW BUILDING—ALL CLASSES AFTER CHEAP TRANSPORTATION.

NEW YORK, August 22.—The weather, although cloudy, has the appearance of changing; wind southeast. Rain fell all night.

The second company of Lennons from the Crimea came by the Holsatia yesterday. They include eight families and fifty persons. Like their predecessors they are well to do, bringing about $100,000. They start to-day for Elkhart, Indiana.

The building on Fourth avenue owned by A. T. Stewart, erected for a hotel for single and widowed women, where they could live cheaply, will be devoted to other purposes, it being deemed impossible to establish a house such as Mr. Stewart proposed.

Benj. B. Herman, chairman of the Merchants' Committee arranging for a mass meeting to advocate cheaper transportation between the East and West, has informed his associates that nearly five hundred prominent firms have signed the call, while many branches of trade have not yet been canvassed. Mr. Sherman says the movement was welcomed by all merchants with whom he conversed, and he knew of no issue that had ever met with such general approbation. The canvass for signatures to a call for the meeting will be continued until all business interests have had an opportunity to be represented.

THE WESTERN ATLANTA.

A Catholic Priest Suspended for Doctoring Sues His Bishop--Railroad Reward.

CHICAGO, August 22.—John Murray Ryan, a suspended priest of the Catholic church who has for some time been practising medicine in this city, to-day commenced a suit in the Circuit Court against the Right Reverend Thomas Freely, Bishop of the Diocese, for suspending him, laying damages at twenty-five thousand dollars.

The claim is based on the allegation that the Bishop in suspending him acted despotically and irregularly, and not in accordance with the canons of the church.

The Chicago and Alton Railroad has offered a thousand dollars reward for the arrest of Conductor Bean.

ARKANSAS INSURRECTION.

Mob Defiance of Legal Authority.

LITTLE ROCK, August 22.—Advices from Perry county state that after the constable's posse, who were endeavoring to arrest Mores and his party for their attack upon Mathews and the Supervisor's Court had dispersed, Mores with a crowd of about thirty men entered Perryville and took possession of the court house, swearing that they would kill forty men for the killing of Trice.

Supervisors Pierce and Holmes in fear of personal violence, left town and are now in this city to lay the facts before the Governor. They declare that it is unsafe for them to return without protection. It is understood that Adjutant General Bishop will leave for the scene of disturbance in the morning.

EARLY SUN SPARKLES.

RHODE ISLAND RACE.

PROVIDENCE, August 22.—Madiline won the Bennett challege cup. Time, three hours and sixteen minutes. Modgic was three minutes behind.

SHIP ARRIVALS.

SAVANNAH, August 22.—Arrived yesterday—Seminole, M. B. Bromhall, Cornelia Denison.

Sailed—Magnolia.

RAILWAY COLLISION.

CINCINNATI, August 22.—A collision on the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad killed three hands. The freight train was fifteen minutes slow. The engineer and conductor of the freight train fled, but the conductor was arrested, and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of the engineer. The passenger coaches are off the track, but the passengers are unhurt. The Superintendent of the road will prosecute the conductor and engineer for murder.

HANGING.

BALTIMORE, August 22.—Two executions, both negroes, have occurred in Maryland to-day. A few minutes past seven A. M., Levin Palmer, aged thirty-five years, was executed in Towsontown, Baltimore county, for rape, and at Baltimore City, shortly after ten o'clock, Jas. West, aged twenty-three years, was executed for murder.

☞ The consolidation of the two leading Methodist bodies in Ireland is likely soon to be accomplished. The conference of the Primitive Wesleyans, held in Dublin not long since, appointed a committee to confer with a similar committee appointed by the late Wesleyan Conference in Cork, upon the subject of union. The action on both sides was almost unanimous. The negotiations for a union between the Primitive Wesleyans and the Episcopalians, discontinued some twelve months ago, are about to be renewed.

☞ The exchange list of the Smithsonian Institution has greatly increased during the past year, and it is now in actual correspondence with similar institutions in almost every part of the globe. The transportation lines have been very generous with the institution, shipping its matter to all parts free of charge, thereby saving it many thousands of dollars per annum.

☞ Mrs. Peter G. Stuyvesant died quite suddenly Sunday morning, aged eighty-four years, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. D. Watts, in New York city. Mrs. Stuyvesant was a daughter of John Rutherford and Helen Morris, daughter of Lewis Morris, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

☞ The cattle fever is reported in various portions of Texas. The Johnson county Democrat states that it exists in that and Pettis counties. The Linneus Bulletin says that in the neighborhood of Kidder, Caldwell county, over two hundred head of cattle have died within an area of four miles, and the disease is on the increase. The disease is called by some the murrain, while others claim it to be the genuine Texas fever.

☞ A Vienna special says the distribution of the prizes was a very tame affair. There were only about three thousand persons present. Archduke Charles Louis made a congratulatory address on the successful termination of the Exposition, after which the list of successful competitors was read.

☞ Pretty bad under foot to-day said one citizen to another, as they met in the street. Yes, but it's fine overhead, responded the other. True enough, said the first, but very few are going that way.

☞ "Rober Wilhelm and his Contemporaries" is the title of Louise Muhlbach's new historical romance. The first part consisting of four volumes, has appeared and many more are to follow.

Thousands of mothers have placed on record their belief, that for all complaints of the stomach and bowels to which children are subject,

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient

is the most unexceptionable of corrective and alteratives. The reason for this belief is obvious. It forms a delicious and most refreshing draught, relieves the bowels of all acrid matters without pain, allays fever, induces sleep, strengthens the digestion, neutralizes acid in the stomach, cures flatulence, acts as a gentle stimulant, tones the nerves, and never gripes the patient. What family can afford to be without such a resource in sickness? Sold by all druggists.

BUFFALO SPRINGS,

Mecklenburg County,
VIRGINIA.

THIS WATERING PLACE, THREE-FOURTHS of which has recently been purchased by Col. Thomas F. Goode, is now owned by himself and T. Paxson. It is open for the reception of visitors under the management of the latter, assisted by Thos. W. J. Baptist, Esq.

It is asserted with entire confidence that these waters are among the most powerful of known remedies in a very large proportion of the maladies with which the human family is afflicted. They are specially indicated in all affections of the stomach, liver, spleen, bowels, and urinary passages, and in the various and complicated diseases peculiar to females, and it is in this latter class of diseases that the greatest power and efficacy of these waters have been attested.

In support of the claim so confidently made, read he following testimony of eminent medical men and f prom nent citizens of Mecklenburg, who have een fam liar with this spring for many years:

Letter from Dr. G. A. Wilson, an eminent physician of North Carolina and formerly Professor in the Medical College, Richmond, Va.

GRANVILLE COUNTY, N. C., July 8th, 1873.

Col. Thos. F. Goode:

My Dear Sir.—I have been much gratified to hear, through a mutual friend, of your recent purchase of the Buffalo Springs property, and of your determination to have improvements somewhat commensurate with the medical value and virtue of these waters.

I have been observing the effects of these waters upon diseased conditions of the human system for more than thirty-five years. As a general Tonic, and Invigorator and Restorator of the great functions of nutrition (no matter what may have been the cause of deterioration) I know of no equal in the shape of physic, and no superior in the medicinal waters of America.

The particular class of cases which are most benefited, embrace the whole of that numerous family which physicians recognize as resulting from the long continued action of malarial causes. Situated as these waters are, at the head of the basin of the Albermarle sound, easily accessible to all the malarial regions of our insalubrious seaboard, I regard as the compensating bounty of a beneficent Providence. I do not hesitate to say that those who will bring these waters into such notice as they deserve, will become a public benefactor. Very truly your friend,

GOODRIDGE & WILSON.

Letter from Dr. O. F. Mason, an eminent physician of Richmond.

RICHMOND, Va., July 5th, 1873.

Col. Thomas F. Goode:

Dear Sir—In reply to your favor of the 3d inst., I would say that the Buffalo Springs in the county of Mecklenburg, Va., have long enjoyed a deserved high reputation with physicians and the public for possessing valuable medicinal properties.

During a residence of twenty-one years in the State of North Carolina, which was yet in the vicinity of Buffalo, I had numerous opportunities of witnessing the beneficial influence of its waters. I do not remember their exact chemical analysis, but I know that they are strongly Chalybeate, and I have observed their sanative effects in diseases attended with, or succeeded by general debility, such as Atonic Dyspepsia, Malarial Cachexia, Chlorosis, Anemia, Hypochondriasis, Hysteria, Functional Cardiac Palpitation, etc.

The waters have been found especially curative in case of Chronic Intermittent Fever, many intractable cases having been thereby restored to perfect health in a brief space of time.

Very respectfully yours,
O. F. MASON, M. D.

From Dr. S. G. Harris, of Boydton.

BOYDTON, Va., July 3, 1873.

Col. Thomas F. Goode:

Dear Sir—I have learned with much pleasure that you have recently purchased an interest in the Buffalo Springs. I deem it a matter of congratulation to that large class of invalids who usually resort to this watering place, that its resources and accommodations will be fully de eloped under the administration of persons whose waters had only to be fully known to secure for them a popularity second to no other in this state. For the last twelve or fifteen years I have been accustomed to advise many of my patient suffering with a certain class of disease to go there, with the utmost confidence in their improvement.

In general debility, consequent upon long attacks of disease, especially malarial fevers, dyspepsia in all its form, diseases of the bowels, liver and urinary organs, it is in my opinion equal to any known mineral water and I regard it as a specific for all those diseases arising from loss of tone and strength on the part of the reproductive organs in the female.

Very respectfully yours,
SAM'L G. HARRIS, M.D.

From Drs. Jones and Jordon of Boydton.

BOYDTON, Va., July 3, 1873.

Col. Thomas F. Goode:

In reply to your favor asking our opinion in regard to the medicinal virtues of the waters of Buffalo Springs, we have t oay that we regard them equal for certain diseases and conditions of the system to any in Virginia. We can recommend them especially for all diseases requiring a tonic in which iron is needed. In chills and fevers and atonic condition of the digestive system, including various forms of dyspepsia, enlargement of the spleen and liver, resulting from continued attacks of chills and general debility. Not only as a tonic, but as an alterative, they will prove useful in a large class of diseases, especially those of a chronic character, as rheumatism, Scrofula, Neuralgia, etc.

These waters have also a most salutary influence on diseases of the kidneys and bladder, and are particularly efficacious in diseases of females.

Yours truly,
WM. H. JONES, M.D. M. M. JORDAN, M. D.

From Dr. John R. Leigh, of Clarksville:

CLARKSVILLE, Va., July 3, 1873.

Colonel Thomas F. Goode:

In reply to your favor asking my opinion as to the medicinal value of the Buffalo Springs water, I have to say that I consider it highly beneficial in a large class of diseases. Not from a careful analysis, but from the effect I have seen produced by visiting the spring, I would recommend it in cases of dyspepsia, general debility and female diseases.

Very truly,
JOHN R. LEIGH, M.D.

From Hon. Wm. Townes, of Mecklenburg:

The undersigned having been born and raised with in a few miles of the Buffalo Springs, in the county o Mecklenburg, and now an old man, takes pleasure in recommending the water to the afflicted. In cases of dyspepsia and cutaneous disorder, I regard it as infallible. I have visited for years all the mountain springs, and consider these waters equalled by few and surpassed by none for many diseases.

After having been a sufferer from Dyspepsia in a severe form for some years, I was entirely relieved by the use of these waters, after having tried without benefit the justly celebrated Allegbany Springs, of Virginia. For delicate females it may be appropriately characterized as a Tonic of Nerfection.

It is situated in a healthy portion of our county, and I take pleasure in recommending the present proprietors to all in search of either health or pleasure. I believe verily that the people of lower Virginia and North Carolina would be as much benefitted by our location as they would be saved money, if advised them to come to Buffalo. WM. TOWNES, Sr.

From Henry Wood, Esq., a Prominent Member of the Mecklenburg Bar:

I have resided in seven miles of Buffalo Springs, Mecklenburg County, Va. for thirty years. Have been frequent visitor there and had ample opportunity of observing its effects in various forms of diseases, and it affords me pleasure to bear my unequivocal testi, mony to its remarkable power and virtue, as a remedial agent, in a large class of diseases, and to its special efficacy in all malarial diseases and affections of the stomach in their varied forms.

I have been myself a dyspeptic for many years, and have found nothing to give me the relief afforded by a visit of from two to four weeks at these Springs.

HENRY WOOD, Sn.

From Captain E. A. Williams, Cashier of the Bank of Clarksville:

I have been a frequent visitor to Buffalo Springs for a number of years as an invalid, and both from experience and observation feel warranted in expressing the opinion that the waters of these Springs are possessed of great curative power in many forms of disease. It has in many instances acted like a charm in renovating my system when in a feeble and depressed condition.

The book trade has been unusually dull through the summer. Only two classes of works, apparently, are in demand—novels and books on popular science. At least these are the only ones lately published.

The Alleghany Springs, Virginia, always a favorite resort of Southerners, have grown in favor with Virginians, and this season there are a large numbers of visitors from Richmond, Petersburg, and Lynchburg.

It is noticeable that in the United States in 1870 there were 1,345 deaths by suicide, while there were only 303 by lightning; in other words an individual is six times as likely to kill himself as lightning is to kill him.

A fruit-canning establishment that was started last year in New Orleans has proved a success, and this year a large number of figs and artichokes will be sent North. Of the latter fruit a New Orleans paper says: "The Southern artichoke is a vegetable so little known at the North that people, having never seen it before, cared little to purchase it at first, but those who have acquainted their palates with the delicate flavor of the Louisiana artichoke speak loud praises for it, and commend the manner of preservation.

"Way down South," when a paper was printed on a Ramage by an old darkey press man named Sam, the forms were always placed on the press and made ready for him; and so, with a well trained negro roller boy, the working of the paper progressed satisfactorily. But it happened one day that Sam, who could not read, was thrown entirely on his own resources. He put the forms to press and pulled a sheet; looked at it intently; turned it round and turned it over; something was the matter; he looked again, felt the tympan, held the sheet up to the light, and looking over his spectacles at the grinning roller boy, exclaimed: "Look heah, boy, why for yer don't 'stribbit yer rollah?" The form was bottom up.

The managers of the Daily New York Graphic announce that their balloon will be ready to start between the 1st and 10th of September, but the precise day of ascent cannot now be determined, and will not be announced until they are sure that no postponement can take place. They intend to first get everything fairly ready and adjusted to the satisfaction of the voyagers themselves, and then the inflation will begin with the first favorable state of the weather. They expect to receive from the Signal Service Bureau at Washington its opinion of the probabilities, and when the prospect is good for a continuance of fair weather for eighteen or twenty four hours, the gas will be turned on, and the balloon will be filled in the shortest possible time.

A Henderson, (Kentucky,) paper says: We have in our possession a letter written by Henry Clay just after his duel with Humphrey Marshall, grandfather of the late General Humphrey Marshall. The document was written before the days of our convenient modern envelopes, and bears upon its back the following address: "Samuel G. Hopkins, or James Clarke, Esq., Frankfort." Samuel G. Hopkins was a brother of the late Miss Mary B. Hopkins, of this city, among whose papers the letter was found one day last week. James Clarke, Esq., was Governor of Kentucky a few years after the letter was written. The original letter will be sent to the Public Library. Here is a copy:

LOUISVILLE, 19 Jan.—9.

Dr. Clarke; I have this moment returned from the field of battle. We had three shots. On the first I grazed him him just above the navel—he missed me. On the second my damned pistol snapped, and he missed me. On the third I received a flesh wound in the thigh, and owing to my receiving his first fire, etc., I missed him.

My wound is no way serious, as the bone is unhurt, but prudence will require me to remain here some days. Yours. HENRY CLAY.

What the World is Coming To!

The extent to which crime forms the staple of the papers is an absolute wonder. From all quarters come records of wrong-doing in every variety of loathsome detail. We could fill a dozen daily CONSTITUTIONS with the chronicles of crime daily occurring.

But we endeavor, as far as possible, to avoid this style of news, confining our publication to local matters. In this way alone can we avoid making our paper a Police Gazette. The harm done by the steady spicy spreading of criminal details among the people cannot be calculated. The injury that results in poisoning the minds of the young by familiarization with wrong, and in the suggestion of vice to older minds, is very great. The subtle gangrene of wicked thought unconsciously seizes the soul, blunted to insensibility to wrong by the contagion of constant knowledge of criminal achievement.

The last reported criminal horror is too vile in its details for us to copy. It is indeed the most horrible crime yet reported, as the Dubuque, Iowa, Herald, chronicling it, says.

A Rev. J. M. Schneller, the chief warden of a private Lutheran asylum for orphans, is charged with having debauched six of the young orphan girls under his charge. The poor girls range in age from ten to fifteen years. The matter has being going on for four years. The asylum is located at Andrew, the capital of Jackson county, Iowa. Schneller is represented to be a man of very fine appearance, address and manners, and to all requirements. He hailed to Europe. The case presents features of depravity unprecedented. The mind absolutely sickens over the revolting revelation of malignant lust.

What is the world coming to?

France.

The telegraph last night tells us that the fusion of the conservatives and legitimists on Count Chambord for King of France, has been brought to grief by the little matter of a disagreement about a national flag.

There cannot be much cordiality of purpose in a fusion that can be so lightly broken.

☞ Colored men of Bourbon county, Kentucky, who voted the Democratic ticket at the late election, are persecuted and maltreated. Their houses have been forcibly entered, and their dishes, stoves and other furniture broken and made useless. Some of them have been stoned at night and mobbed in the day. The arm of the law ought to be strong enough in Kentucky to put down these Grant Ku-Klux. A reward of $50 a head has been offered for the apprehension of offenders.

Same Talk.

The Tichborne case in England promises to be one of the celebrated ones of the world's litigation. The celebrity of the case will not be at all diminished by the amazing fact reported in last night's dispatches, that Tichborne's leading lawyer, a Mr. Kenealy, has made a speech in his defense only one solid month long.

Beautiful.

God bless the good women, do we say? Every now and then crops out some demonstration of her divine promptings, some act of humanity, so touching, so tender, so devoted, so exalted and exalting, so beautiful, that faith in the true and noble gets new life within us, and the very world seems a better world.

The following from the Louisville Courier-Journal exquisitely illustrates what we have alluded to:

An old, old story, but a sweet and touching one, is that of woman's devotion and self-forgetfulness in seasons of sorest sorrow. The double railway disaster of first a frightful collision and then an explosion of locomotives, which occurred at midnight on the Chicago and Alton road, was enough to paralyze the strongest nerves, but the awful crash, which sent some from the sleep of life to that of death, was to many of the women, so rudely aroused from repose, an opportunity for a work of humanity. The conductor of the sleeping coach tells a straightforward story, which needs no embellishment of polished phrases to adorn the angelic work of these volunteer sisters of charity: "First thing I knew the ladies, God bless them! were tearing up their underclothing to bind up the sufferers. Why, sir, in half a minute they had scarcely anything left on them.

There was round one man's hand a lace handkerchief that must have cost a small fortune. One lady thrust something into my hand to tie round a man's arm, which looked like—well, underclothing. I could not stand that any longer. I did not care what the company said, so I just gave orders to open the lockers and tear up anything that came handy. And they did. There were two or three ladies tearing sheets into lengths to bind up wounds, while a half a dozen others were binding them around the bloody arms and bodies of the wounded men. There was one little lady who was an angel; she worked—how she worked! There's her card. God bless her," and he handed the reporter a card marked "Mrs. Robert McCart, No. 212 South Center street, Bloomington." "I said I would get her name into the papers, and she begged me not to. But there it is." A glorious girl, Miss Tracy, the daughter of the editor of a paper in Houston, Texas, distinguished herself for her devotion and careful attention to the sufferers, who were racked with every torture. Earth has no medal nor tribute of honor that can heighten the beauty of this loving kindness, which sparkles up in the full tide of womanly devotion and sympathy in the arid waste of human selfishness like a fountain in a burning desert.

GEORGIA SCENES.

Notes of a Commercial Traveler—Georgia Celebrities—Macon—The Coming State Fair.

[Correspondence of the Union and American.]

MACON, GA., August 17.—I am, as you see, safely housed in Macon, and according to the surveyors, almost in the mathematical center of the State. I traveled through fields of wheat and corn from Chattanooga to Atlanta. The green grain and hills covered with trees are very beautiful as they pass swiftly by the window, and are pleasantly relieved now and then by a white cottage in the distance. This part of the State is not as thickly populated as lower Georgia. It is devoted to ex-Gov. Jos. E. Brown, a man said to have warmer friends and bitterer foes than any other man in the State.

It was my good fortune to meet, while in Atlanta, the most prominent men in the State. Joe Brown is no longer engaged in the law. He is looked upon as the great advocate of the new order of things. There are still many of his anti-war friends who hate him as bitterly as ever, and look upon his acceptance of the Chief Justiceship from the "Radical-runaway Gov. Bullock," as an evidence of his yearning after the flesh-pots of Egypt. He is, perhaps, the ablest politician in Georgia. He looks very much more like a third-class Methodist preacher than a politician though. I saw him, not long ago, walking along the street with as stiff and precise a manner as a drunken man trying to walk a chalk line. Add to this that he was dressed in black alpaca pants, a black coat, coming down to his heels, a white cravat and rusty beaver, and you have some idea of the ablest man in Georgia.

Alex Stephens is too well known as the Vice President of the Confederacy to need any notice here except to say that he resembles the old fellow in Greek history, who had to wear leaden soles in his shoes, to prevent his being blown over by the wind. He weighs, it is said, only ninety pounds, and is six feet high. He goes entirely on crutches and would look like a dead man if it were not for his eyes, which sparkle in his head like polished diamonds.

Bob Toombs looks the great man all over. He attracts attention everywhere and is the magnet of all eyes. He wears his hair in long, curly, gray locks, hanging in profusion around his head, in a manner not ungraceful to him. When he is quiet, and that is very rarely, there is such a look of calm repose on his features as to remind one of some old majestic column whose simple dignity it is refreshing to rest upon, when the eyes are wearied with common humanity. I have seen a crowd follow him about the sidewalk in front of the Kimball House in Atlanta, to hear him talk. When he is in the humor, and perhaps mellowed by a drop or two, his mind throws off the most brilliant witticisms, which are duly appreciated by his convulsed audience. He is a great lawyer, but too hot-headed ever to have the confidence of the people as a safe statesman.

Ben Hill, the author of "Notes on the Situation," is a tall, stout man. He goes along with his head hung on one side as if half asleep. Mr. Hill is considered the finest stump orator in the State, and his powers of sarcasm and invective are unsurpassed.

At last, I bade Atlanta good-bye, and cutting through many a green corn and cotton field, arrived at Macon. In my opinion it is a beautiful place. Macon has a population of about ten or eleven thousand, and is rapidly increasing in commercial importance. It seems just the place a gentleman with a small fortune would like to settle down to the enjoyment of a pleasant home at attractive society. Macon has five railroads running into it, and is the place where the insatiable jaws of Southwestern Georgia are filled with provisions. She is at present preparing for the Georgia State Fair, to be held here in the fall. Among other premiums on their list, I notice one of $750 to the best drilled company of volunteers, open to the world. Every city in the State will send one or more companies to compete for the prize. One of the Atlanta companies has offered an additional premium of $500. It is reported that Jim Fisk's celebrated regiment will be here. I am satisfied a Tennessee company would stand a fine showing. Statistics show the men of Kentucky and Tennessee to be the largest and finest looking men in the United States, and a superior martial appearance, will go far towards obtaining the prize.

A bill has been presented in the Cortes suspending the guarantee of individual rights during the continuance of the present troubles.

General Espartera has advised the Madrid Government to appoint General Manuel Conchua to the chief command of the Republican forces in the Norther provinces bordering on the bay of Biscay, and General Morlonez to the command of Navarre.

By a vote of 66 yeas to 63 nays, the Cortes consented to the trial, by civil tribunal, of Benitos, one of its members who participated in the Cantonal insurrection.

LONDON, August 21.—A special dispatch to the Standard says the Carlists forces under Elio, Dorregarray, Lizzarraga, Olleo and Don Carlos, amount to 35 strong battalions.

Italian Brigand's Captured.

ROME, August 21.—The government has received intelligence of the destruction of a noted band of robbers, who have for a long time operated in the vicinity of Salerno. Six of the brigands were killed and the rest captured.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

BIG INJUN.

AN EFFORT TO GET UP PEACE.

GALVESTON, August 21.—The Indian chiefs Santanta and Big Tree arrived at Houston yesterday, under guard from the penitentiary, en route for Fort Sill, where a council is to be held between Secretary Delano and Governor Davis and the Kiowa and Comanche tribes, with a view of furthering peace.

FINAL SPARKLES.

MURDERERS CAUGHT.

PATERSON, August 21.—A man named McCardi, and a youth named Nugent, was held by the coroner's jury to-day for the murder of Simon George, a Frenchman a few nights ago in this city.

FIRE.

DETROIT, August 21.—Great fires are raging in the woods of Jacco county, Michigan, near the village of East Towas and Towas City. The latter place is in some danger.

RACES.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., August 21.—Hampton Park Races have been postponed until to-morrow.

JOHN BULL'S DOMAIN.

A Speech a Month Long in the Tichborne Case

LONDON, August 21.—Mr. Knealy, the leading counsel for the defense in the trial of the Tichborne claimant, concluded his address to the jury to day.

Mr. Keneuy commenced to speak on the 22d of July, and has occupied the attention of the court every day since, with the exception of the usual adjournment from Saturday to Monday, and an extra adjournment from the 31st of July to the 5th of August, in consequence of the illness of a juror.

SPAIN.

A Great Carlist Defeat.

MADRID, August 21.—The Minister of War has received dispatches announcing that a battle had taken place near Berga between the Republicans and Carlists insurrectionists which resulted in a brilliant victory for the former. After a desperate conflict the Insurrectionists were utterly defeated, with a loss of ninety killed and three hundred wounded. Among the latter are Generals Labalis and Tristang. The siege of Berga has been raised and the insurgents are in full retreat.

"PARLEY VOO."

Chambord's Nose Out of Joint—Duties on Grain.

PARIS, August 21.—The Opinion National of to-day says that negotiations looking to a fusion of the Conservatives of the Assembly with the Legitimists, in the interest of Count deChambord, have suddenly come to an end in consequence of a difference upon the question of a National flag.

M. Bowillere, Minister of Commerce, writes a letter to M. Duval in which he says the differential duties upon grain imported into France by American or other foreign vessels, will continue to be collected until the first of October next.

A Woman's Write.

Some editor who has been victimized writes as follows: "We shall never engage another woman to report gentlemen's fashions for this paper, We might have known she would ignominiously fail; but she said gentlemen reported ladies' fashions, and she couldn't see why a woman shouldn't write up the masculine modes. We couldn't see either, so we gave her a carte-blanche to go ahead. And such a fashion article! Here is a specimen of the ridiculous stuff: A recherche spring overcoat for promenade has pretty ribbed stripes, with three ruffles on the tails, festooned with tassels, single-breasted collar, and rolling flaps on the panier. A lovely dress-coat has three buttons and pockets in the rear, box-plaited on the hips, three-ply guipure lace on the narrative, gored in a bunch and bouffant. Vests button up in front same as last year, and have pockets, with imperial polonaise up the back, and oxidized buttons in double rows on the collar, with tab fronts. The shirt is cut tight at the knee, and open in front or behind, as may be preferred, with percale bosom, trimmed passementerie, four rows of Magenta braid around the skirt, with hood at back, bound with galloon to match. Much depends on the pantaloons. A gentleman's dress is very incomplete without trousers. These are of some subdued color, as London smoke, and should have monies with the—the—neck fichu. They are cut bias in both legs, with frills to fall over the boots; the waist is garnished with a—a—of batiste, with ecru facings, and be—to match; the——. But that is enough. Any one but a Sandwich Islander will see at a glance that these fashions are frightfully mixed. Who ever heard of trousers being cut bias in the legs, deep frills falling over the instep with a broad band of batiste—whatever that may be—and ecru facings and things? Rather than wear pantaloons built in that way, we would go without, and encase our limbs in two sections of stove-pipe.

☞ Between five and six miles of the city, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, on an obscure neighborhood road, a quarter of a mile from the Brownsboro road, rest the remains of the twelfth President of the United States, Zachary Taylor. The grave is situated in the northeast corner of the Taylor farm, and it is mortifying to relate that it is in a sadly neglected condition, underbrush, weeds and allanthus trees rendering it very difficult of access. No monument has ever been erected to General Taylor's memory. The remains lie in a plain vault, built in the side of a hill, with a marble slab over the door, bearing, the inscription: "Z. Taylor, born November 24, 1784; died July, 9, 1850." The place does, indeed, appear forgotten. A stone wall encloses the little graveyard, and a rusty and unused iron gate frowns upon the visitor. It evidently has not been opened for years. Colonel Richard Taylor is buried to the right of General Taylor. An obelisk, eighteen feet high erected over his grave bearing the inscription: "Colonel Richard Taylor, a soldier of the Revolutionary war, and a native of Orange county Virginia; born April the 3d, 1744; died January 19, 1829." Colonel Taylor came to this State while his son Zachary was an infant, and settled on the plantation where he is now buried.

☞ A California horse race on a Yosemites scale of grandeur is proposed for October; purse, $20,000; free to all running horses in the United States; four miles and repeat; first horse $12,000, second $5,000 and third $3,000.

CAMPBELL COUNTY

Grand Jury Presentments.

CAMBELL SUPERIOR COURT,

August Term, 1873.

We, the Grand Jury drawn and empanneled for the said Term of the Court, beg leave to submit the following presentments, through our various committees:

We have examined the Records and Books of the Ordinary, Clerk, Tax Collector, Tax Receiver and County Treasurer, and find them kept in a neat and business-like manner.

We find the public buildings in a good condition except the Jail, which needs some repairs, such as iron bars, etc.

We recommend the Ordinary to collect such rents as he thinks proper for the rooms of the Court House except those occupied by the County Officers that are entitled to rooms in said Court House, and to pay over the said rents to the County Treasurer.

We have examined the Dockets of the Notaries Public and Justices of the Peace of the different Districts so far as was presented to us. We regret to have to report in default the following named officers, to-wit: J. B. Blalock, N. P. of the 731st District; Scott Campbell, J. P., 731st District; B. A. Camp, N. P., 1165th District, dockets not exhibited; A. Z. Mimms, J. P., 499th District; J. B. Newborn, N. P., 1204th District, incorrect by overcharges and not itemizing; John Reynolds, J. P., 1134th District, incorrect by excessive charge; A. J. Bailey, J. P., 1204th District, incorrect by not itemizing. The remainder of the Notaries Public and Justices of the Peace Dockets we find kept correctly, reflecting credit upon said officers.

We find that some of the Public Roads in our county have been worked as the law directs. We therefore recommend that the proper authority issue Scire Facias against the several Commissioners of said county, requiring them to come forward at the next Term of the Superior Court to show cause, if any they have, why said roads have not been put in good order.

We find the Public Bridges in good condition—two under contract, to be built soon.

We find our Sheriff's punctual in the discharge of their several duties, and we recommend them to procure the services of bonded Bailiffs to assist them in waiting on the Courts.

Also, we learn with regret that there are some men in our county who make it convenient to get upon the Grand Jury at every Term of the Court. We therefore recommend our Sheriffs to be more careful in selecting Jurors, as we want no professional Jurors.

We find in the County Treasurer's hands $75 55. We find the indebtedness of the County to be as follows:

To net balance on Court House	$ 3 509 00
Interest on same	397 50
Com. on T. C., T. R. and County Treas'r	483 43
Paupers, and commissions on same	2,600 00
Jurors and commissions	1,266 75
Jail fees and other expenses	831 05
	$9,748 73

We find in the amount $469 55 expenses of 1872 that was left unpaid. There are some outstanding debts against the county, the amounts we are unable to arrive at. We recommend the Ordinary to levy a tax sufficient to pay the indebtedness of the county.

As the duties of the Inferior Court now devolves upon the Ordinary, we recommend the Ordinary to present an itemized account of the labors of said office to the committee on finance, and, if approved by said recommittee, we recommend the County Treasurer to pay said account according to the fees laid down in Irwin's Revised Code.

We recommend the County Treasurer to pay to the Clerk of the Superior Court $25 for stationery, extra services, etc.

As D. P. White, Sheriff, has presented an itemized account for extra services to the Grand Jury, we commend the Ordinary to issue an order on the County Treasurer for $66 50 in favor of said Sheriff for extra services.

We find a fi fa. in the hands of the Sheriff against Wm. Austin, former Treasurer, for $197 27, principal, which should have been paid long since. We therefore recommend the proper officer to proceed with a rule against the Sheriff.

We hereby constitute and appoint Levi Ballard, J

A rare opportunity is offered persons wishing to adopt two orphan children.
Mayson has another mammoth auction sale on Saturday.
C. P. CASSIN has a large store fronting on Broad and Whitehall streets to rent.
REV. W. D. ATKINSON lectured last night in an impressive manner to Hamilton Lodge Good Templars.
DR. WILLIS F. WESTMORELAND has returned to the city, and resumed his practice.
INTERESTING.—We copy from the Chronicle and Sentinel an interesting account of the windfall to two Madison ladies, and a description of the double homicide in a mutual county.
CHEWS IT.—Chews what? Why, everybody chews Mobley's AAAA extra chewing tobacco sold by Jordan, Howard & Israelson. Try it all who chews, and to buy it you will never refuse.
GOOD INVESTMENT.—Jackson & Clarke have forty shares of Stock in the Dollar Savings Bank for sale. This is one of the best conducted and managed institutions in the South and pays 20 per cent. per annum.
IN DEMAND.—Orders continue to pour in for the lectures of Bishop Gross and Rev. Dr. Dixon. Yesterday he received orders from Sparta, Warrenton, Woodville and Forsyth, in this State; Monroe, North Carolina; and Nashville, Tennessee, for copies. These lectures are in great demand.
UNITED STATES COURT.—The bankrupt case of Enoch Steadman was continued yesterday until Tuesday next. Messrs L. R. Bleckley, A. T. Akerman and Conrad H. D. Capers made speeches in the case.
IN THE NOTICE of an affecting incident yesterday morning, our reporter omitted to mention the fact that Mr. Jarrett, of Chamberlin, Boynton & Co's., and Mr. J. Kesley furnished the shrouding for the dead baby to Mrs. Dr. J. M. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, and Marshal Thomas arranged the coffin. The city furnished the shoes and coffin only.
CORRECTION.—We are informed by the pastor of the colored church where the fracas occurred on Tuesday night, that Jerry Davis, who shot Ben. Lazenbury, was not a member of the church nor an Odd Fellow. Alack Bill started the row by throwing a rock into the church.
SUDDEN DEATH IN COVINGTON.—MRS. Florence Thomson, formerly Miss Usher, formerly of Covington, but more recently of Madison, we learn, died at Covington at half past six o'clock yesterday evening of heart disease. She leaves a husband and three children—one five weeks old. She was an amiable and lovely woman, beloved by every body.
SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY FOR LIFE.—We learn that at Walton Superior Court yesterday the jury, in the case of the State vs. Andrew Hammett, found him guilty of the murder of Mr. Rockmore, but recommended him to mercy. Hammett was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.
WANTED—A live agent to solicit subscriptions in Atlanta for a memoir of Roger B. Taney, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. This is one of the best selling books published. Fifty copies have been sold in one day by our agent in Augusta, Georgia. QUINN & PANDLETON, Police Uniform.

The subject of supplying the police with proper uniforms has been discussed for some time on the streets, and in all probability will come up before Council tonight. The Council could not do anything better than to furnish the men their uniforms entire. They have already supplied them the hats they wear, and therefore do not lack a precident. The men are, most of them, poor with large families dependent upon them, and as the wages they receive are small, but $2 25 per day, and they are required to work twelve hours out the twenty-four, climb lamp-posts as well as perform their other duties, considering the manner which they fulfilled their part, this would not be doing too much for them. We say to the Council, give them a good, substantial winter uniform, if any of them should be turned off of the force, then the Council will have the right to require him to don citizen clothes, and not walk around the city as some did last year since uniformed.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Another Warning to Boys—Another Coal Oil Death.

On Sunday last Willie McDonald, son of Mrs. W. H. McDonald, and a son of Mr J. S. Smith, of Stone Mountain, experimanted with kerosene oil. They poured a little out of a can on a rock, and while trying to ignite it on the rock the flame communicated with the oil in the can, exploding the can and sending the burning fluid over the clothing of the unfortunate boys. Willie McDonald was burned so severely that he died that evening. His remains were taken to Athens for interment. He was a promising boy, and this bereavement falls heavy on his widowed mother. Floyd Smith is recovering.

POLICE REPORTS.

A Protest Against the Prevailing Way of Getting Them Up.

Editors Constitution: It seems to me that there is much room for improvement in the Reports of Police Courts, as published every morning in some of the papers of this country. De gustibus non disputandum is an old maxim, I know, but I don't like to see a man taking pleasure in the pains and sufferings, or the misfortunes even, of another.

We have no right to desire to turn them from their course here who looks as if one foot was already in the grave, and go away strong and fat.

The interest in POLITICS

has about died out here. Democrats have things their own way, which doesn't speak well for one of the "original loyal States."

CROPS

are not so good in this part of the county—the tobacco in many places a complete failure. I go from here to White Sulphur, to see a little style: (haven't got much here) and here let me suggest to our public speakers who undertake the herculean task of reforming fashions, if they would spend a few days at that place, I think they would meet with better success, and do themselves and the subject more justice.

From the "White" I go to plunge into the waters of the 'OLD SWEET"—

a most delightful bath, which makes one feel as light as a feather, and wants to bet he can jump from Maine to Texas. From "O d Sweet" I'll go to Jordan Alum Springs, from which place I'll write again. By the by, tell all the boys in Atlanta who want to get married, and, like myself, have come to the conclusion that there's no chance at home, to come up this way. They can in half the time generally required. But "an revoir," Yours, or anybody else's,

MAKE T-R TRIP

A TOUGH LEGAL QUESTION.

I forgot to state under the head of crops, that there is a question seriously agitating the minds of these people. It has been in court, I think, but was never decided. May-be you or some one else in Georgia can settle the matter for them. A man had a field of tobacco up on the side of a mountain. Some time since a tremendous "water spout" came down and carried the field down into the valley below, completely covering another man's field of corn. The tobacco is still growing, however. The question is, whose field is it?

DOUBLE HOMICIDE.

A Terrible Affray.

Difficulty in Swainsboro, Emanuel County, Between Messrs. J. C. King and Bruce McLeond—Each Kills the Other—Origin of the Difficulty.

From a letter received yesterday morning from our agent at Bartow, Georgia, we learned that a terrible affray occurred in Swainsboro, Emanuel county, last Friday, the 15th instant, between J. C. King, Esq., of the law firm of Ward & King, of that place, and Bruce McLeoud, a clerk in a store at Swainsboro, which resulted in the death of both, each being shot by the other.

THE ORIGIN OF THE DIFFICULTY.

Soon after receiving the letter, we learned that Mr. Judson W. Oliphant, of Jefferson county, was in the city, and was able to give a full account of the difficulty, having received the particulars of the origin, progress and culmination of the affair from Mr. Ward, the law partner of Mr. J. C. King, and other parties in Swainsboro. Our reporter, therefore, sought out Mr. Oliphant, and had an interview with him. The facts, as obtained from him, are in substance as follows:

About three weeks ago a Miss Bell, from Warren county, sister in-law of J. C. King, paid a visit to her sister, wife of Mr. King, in Swainsboro. Soon after her arrival in the village, Bruce McLeond, a young clerk, aged about twenty-three years, became acquainted with her and commenced paying her assiduous attention. As McLeond bore a very bad reputation, King informed his sister in-law of the fact, telling her that he was worthless fellow, and advised her to send him a note requesting him not to visit her again, as she did not wish his company. The note was written in consonance with this advice and sent to Mr Leond.

The latter was very much enraged, and meeting King shortly afterwards attacked him, accusing him of influencing Miss Bell to break off the acquaintanceship. Some words ensued between the two, but the difficulty was at last settled, as everybody thought, amicably and finally.

Last week King went to Warrenton to visit his father-in law, and stopped for a short time in this city. He then returned to Swainsboro. Last Friday afternoon McLeond, while wrestling with a fellow clerk in the store where he was employed, from some portion of his clothing. The other young man thereupon refused to wrestle any further with Mr. McLeoud and asked him what he meant by carrying a pistol. McLeond replied that he expected to have a difficulty with some one that day, as he had lived as long as he could in that place without having one. He then went into a bar-room, and, although he was not usually a drinking man, took three large drinks of raw whisky. He went out on the street and met King, who had just started from his residence to go to his office, about three hundred yards distant.

DROPPED A PISTOL

McLeoud immediately accosted King and told him that he had better raise his family right. King replied that he tried to do so, and continued walking towards his office. McLeoud followed and when King stepped into the piazza in front of his office, he walked up close to him and repeated what he had previously said, viz.: That King had better raise his family right. King again said that he did do so; that he thought he knew better how to raise his own family than any body else; that he tried to be a Christian and didn't want a difficulty with any one. McLeond gave King the whereupon King struck him with his fist. McLeoud then stepped back about a yard, drew his pistol and fired at King. The latter remarked, "If that is your game, wait until I get my pistol." He then walked into the office, McLeoud pursuing and firing at him, but without effect. King secured an old Colt's revolver, which had been loaded for some time, turned and snipped it twice at McLeond. At the third attempt the weapon was discharged, the ball passing up the right lung and lodging near the backbone. With blood running from his nose, mouth and ears, King turned and called out to Mr. Ward, his partner, asking him if there was not another pistol about. Ward threw down, our informant stated, another pistol within reach of King, remarking, however, that he didn't think it would shoot. King took the pistol steadied himself against a window, and fired. The ball struck McLeond in the left side, passing through the bladder and intestines and lodging in his back.

AIMED AT M'LEOUD

McLeond was carried off to his home by a friend. King remarked to Ward, "The scoundrel has killed me, and killed me for nothing," walked down the steps and started in the direction of his home, but fell when he had proceeded a few feet, and expired in about five minutes. McLeond died the next day—Saturday. He said before he died that he had killed King wrongfully and was sorry for it, but that it was all right now, King having killed him as well, as he didn't expect to live.

The affair altogether is said to have been one of the bloodiest ever witnessed.

Mr. King was highly esteemed in the community in which he lived. He was a christian gentleman and a peaceable man in all respects. He leaves a wife and two small children to mourn his untimely end. He was about thirty years of age at the time of his death.

It was reported in Swainsboro that McLeond killed a man some time ago in one of the upper counties, and was compelled to leave that part of the State. He had only recently moved to Swainsboro.

IMPROVED ORDER OF "RED MEN."

Two Tribes Organized on the 20th Instant.

We learn that W. F. Meacham, Vice Great Incahone, W. G. Ewing, Senior Sannap, A. J. Molton, Past Sachem, and Mr. Robert Nye, from the Great Tribe of Nashville, Tennessee, organized a Tribe in Marietta, Georgia, on Wednesday last, called the "Cherokee Jack, No. 1," thence to this city and organized Modoc Tribe, No. 2, by 3 o'clock same evening, and left for their homes in Nashville.

The Modoc Tribe No. 2 was organized with thirty-five members, and has a fine prospect before it. The following officers were elected: J. Francis Rice, Sachem; W. D. Burris, Sr. Sagamore; J. C. Bridger, Jr. Sagamore; A. N. Hunt, Keeper of Wampum; M. M. Turner, Chief of Records; H. A. Youngblood, Prophet. These officers were duly installed, and as brave "Red Men" entered immediatel on duty.

The following were appointed:

Thomas Read, First Sannap.
Thomas Keltner, Second Sannap.
H. B. Foster, First Warrior.
Daniel Keltner, Second Warrior.
S. Sally, Third Warrior.
E. K. Pridgen, Fourth Warrior.
D. A. McDuffie, First Brave.
Thomas Medlin, Second Brave.
John Mayson, Third Brave.
W. L. Grubb, Fourth Brave.
Robert Shields, First Powwow.
W. Merritt, Second Powwow.
G. M. Jones, Guard of Wigwam.
W. Kelton, Guard of Forest.

These officers were stationed at their proper post and ready for duty.

Having no working material, could not perform any initiations, but appointed committees and made arrangements for everything that was necessary for the interest of the "Tribe."

Mr. Meacham, V. G., Incahone, made an eloquent speech to the tribe, in which he urged them on to deeds of more reckless daring. He was followed by Mr. Ewing and several others, including the Chiefs elect.

There are only three tribes in the State at present, but prospects bids fair for a heavy harvest.

The regular nights for the Tribe to light their fires will be on Friday nights at 8 o'clock at Odd Fellows' Hall corner Broad and Mitchell streets.

We wish all such Tribes as Modoc No. 3, success.

STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Second Day's Proceedings—Interesting Discussion—Fruits, etc.

The Society met yesterday at 9½ o'clock, the President, J. R. Wallace, in the chair.

The minutes of the day previous were read, approved and after some slight amendments were adopted. The regular order adopted by the business committee was adopted.

Mr. Wm. A. Bass gave notice that he would move an amendment to the constitution and by-laws as follows:

Article 6, Constitution—Last clause to be amended so as to read "the Secretary and Treasurer shall be elected by the society at each annual meeting."

Article 3. The first clause uniting the office of Secretary and Treasurer in one person, be stricken out. The second clause to read "they shall be elected by the society at its annual meetings as provided by the constitution."

Colonel J. M. Stubbs of Laurens, moved that the catalogue of fruits cultivated in Georgia adopted by the State Agricultural Society, be adopted by this Society as the best one now to be had, for the information of fruit growers, and that it be published with the constitution and by-laws. It was adopted.

Colonel T. C. Howard being called on made one of his usual happy speeches on fruit culture—notwithstanding, he said that it was done "on extemporaneous as he had ever driven a hog out of a corn field."

Your committee to report upon the fruits exhibited, beg leave to report as follows:

PEARS.

The aggregate number of varieties consist of ——. With few exceptions correctly named and well grown; some exceptionally so. Several native Georgia varieties were examined, but not being in their proper stage of maturity, your committee were unable to classify them as to their standard of quality, and request that these varieties be reta ned by the Secretary of the committee until sufficiently advanced in maturity for further examination, and report. The Nabours was admitted, and claimed as good.

APPLES.

The number of varieties on exhibition is in general correctly named. Several varieties were represented in specimens grown in different sections of the State, and in different soils, giving an opportunity for correct comparison as to their adaptability to the several localities of the State. Among the collections which came under our notice we especially mention that of Mr. J. S. Newman of Sparta as the best grown.

GRAPES.

In number of varieties and quality, your committee would state that few better specimens have ever came under their notice; lateness of the season caused a few varieties to be passed their best stage. The Ramolan and Sensaqua were exhibited for the first time in Georgia. The collection of Dr. Hape, Mr. Wm. Jennings and Mr. Wm. A. Bass, were worthy of special notice as to quality and skillful culture. The Trayior grape, a native seedling of summer grape type, is recommended as a variety from which a progressive amelioration in this peculiar class may be expected.

PEACHES.

Few varieties were exhibited owing to the lateness of the season. We beg to report upon the relative merits of the Smock, Railway and Picquets late, and we found that the latter class are best, the Railway as good and of small size, and Smocks as inferior in flavor and rejected as below the standard.

MISCELLANEOUS FRUITS.

We find specimens of Jujube, Figs, English Walnuts, Cobnuts, Pomegranates, Meddlars, Quinces—all correctly named and generally well grown.

We also beg to notice specimens of Trophy Tomatoes of excellent quality. Sweet Potatoes of large size for the season.

Taking into consideration that this is the first exhibition, where fruits were a speciality and the unfavorable spring as well as the lateness of the season of matrnity of many classes of fruits, the display now on exhibition reflects great credit upon the exhibitors and demonstrates forcibly that the fruit producing capacity of Georgia is equal to that of any section of the United States and only requires to be developed.

Respectfully submitted,
E. J. BERRMANS, Chairman;
D. B. LADD,
RUSH IRWIN,
WM. JENNINGS,
SAMUEL HAPE.

DISCUSSION OF FRUITS.

The rest of the morning session was devoted to the discussion of the principal fruits grown in the State, and the adaptability of particular varieties that had received attention of pomologists.

Mr. P. J. Berkman, of Richmond, who it seems is thoroughly versant on the subject of fruits, gave some very important facts and instructions that had come under his observation. Various qualities of pears were discussed and much useful information given.

After which the society adjourned until 3¾ P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 3¾ o'clock the society re-assembled. The afternoon was spent in the further discussion of fruits.

The question of what were the best manures to be used in orchards had a full and free ventilation.

The best varieties of small fruits, and those that had been tried in this State and had failed, were particularly spoken of.

After a most interesting session, the body finally adjourned to meet again the first Wednesday in next August, or at such other time as the Executive committee might designate.

Last night the Pomological exhibition was continued with quite a respectable attendance. At half-past nine o'clock, after all present had feasted their eyes on the appearance of the fruits exhibited, they were given an opportunity to feast their appetites. The fruits were auctioned off to the highest bidder, most of them bringing quite a handsome sum.

A good deal of fun and merriment was had on the occasion of it. Thus ended one of the most important assemblages that has convened in the State for sometime. Though the attendance was not as large as might have been desired, yet it was sufficiently large to give impetus to the science of horticulture that will greatly redound to the future benefit of the State.

PERSONAL.—J. J. Williams has returned to the city greatly improved in physique and health.

Dr. T. L. Lallerstedt has located near Flat Rock in DeKalb county.

Major I. P. Gtardley, of Augusta, passed through here yesterday en route home from Alabama.

Prosper J. Berckmans, of Augusta, made a host of friends while here attending the State Horticultural Society. He left last night for home.

In the proceedings of the State Agricultural Society Thursday morning, the names of Rev. L. T. Tichenor, President of the Alabama Agricultural College, and Marshal P. Wilder, of Boston, were incorrectly printed.

We regret to learn that Mr. John A. Corbally, of the firm of Corbally & Chalmers, leaves to-day for Atlanta, where he is to make his future residence, and to be associated in business with Martin Costan, late of this city. While we are sorry to part with so valuable a citizen, one who has been closely identified with the growth of our city, as a contractor and builder, we wish him all success in his new home, and hope that he will never have occasion to regret this change of residence.—Columbus Sun.

G. W. Sasseen is canvassing for the Musical Eclectic, issued by Guilford, Wood & Co., and is meeting with success.

Arrivals at the Kimball House last night: W. B. Johnson, Macon; A. M. Jackson, Rome; J. H. Bonham, Jr., Chicago; W. D. Walton, M. P. Reese, Mrs. Reese, Washington; Sterling B. Toney, Eufaula, Ala; R. B. Ridley, LaGrange; Col. R. H. Powell, Mrs. J. B. Lucki, Mrs. Pickens, Miss Ida Blackman, Union Springs, Alabama; D. F. Cargill, Hon. G. T. Barnes, Augusta; Hon. J. W. Burke, Macon.

Arrivals at the National Hotel last night: W. O. Burtchale, Cuthbert; R. Bean, Louisville, Ky; H. O. Price, Barnesville; J. A. Lovelace, Rome; H. J. Long, Jefferson; R. J. McNorrill, Burke, co; W. Holland, Jackson, Tenn; E. T. White, Stone Mountain; J. C. McMichael, Thomaston; J. J. Smith and wife, Americus; J. R. Meister, Dalton; Robert Douglass, Iowa; J. U. Anley, Mrs. Boisclair, Augusta; F. B. Pitch, Griffin; J. Crawford, Athens.

CANDIDATES TO THE FRONT.—The fall canvass is opening up with a good deal of vim. Already the candidates for municipal honors are pressing their claims. We hear of a number that are already in the field, others only holding back to be asked—modesty, that gem of virtues, preventing them from coming out boldly. Colonel S. B. Spencer is spoken of for Mayor, also, the present functionary, Judge Hammock. For Aldermanic honors those of the present Council who aspire again as we have been told are John F. Morris, of the first, A. C. Young, of the third, and J. K. Goldsmith, of the fifth. Dan McDuffie, of the sixth, and J. H. Langston of the seventh. All we can say, each of the above gentlemen have made good and efficient members the present year and perhaps are as well fitted as any others who might aspire. For ourselves, however, we would suggest the columns of THE CONSTITUTION are open for announcements and the sooner the claims of the candidates are made known to the public the better.

NEWSPAPER FOR SALE.—The Southern Times and Planter at Sparta is offered for sale. The active engagements of the editors and proprietors in other business spheres not admitting of their giving such attention as the business demands, they are desirous of selling it. The business is a good one and pays.

A NUMBER of "locals" prepared for this issue are unavoidably crowded out.

The bouquet sent to the Horticultural Exhibition, by Mrs. T. M. Elyea, was greatly admired last night by the throng.

J. C. McMichael, of Thomaston, and "Long John" W. Woodward, of Dahlonega, are in the city.

Who wants a cotton plantation in Mississippi? See advertisement of Hunt & Macauly, of New Orleans.

FARMER CANDLER was on Tuesday elected President of DeKalb County Sunday School Association.

J. O. MATHEWSON.—We invite special attention to the card of J. O. Mathewson, General Commission Merchant of Augusta. He is one of the solid men of Augusta. The writer knew him when a clerk struggling to rise higher in the walks of life. He was ever prompt, punctual and has conducted himself since boyhood, with uprightness and integrity. We can feel no hesitancy in indorsing one who has risen by his own exertions to the front rank of business and social life.

The Complimentary Hop.

The H. L. Kimball House last night was fairly alive with youth and beauty. The young gentlemen succeeded in making their hops as near perfect as hops ever get to be, and the multitude of lovely visitors, to whom the hop had been tendered, as well as a very large number of Atlanta's fairest daughters, who were also present, will long remember the occasion.

It seemed to us that there were just exactly the right number present, and that everybody, especially the ladies, were looking just a little better than they had ever looked before in their lives. The toilettes of the ladies were magnificent, and beautiful as they were, they were but naught when compared to their owners.

The gentlemen also made elaborate and extensive preparations for the occasion, and to retire to their room at any time during the evening was to lose oneself amid a wilderness of swallow-tailed coats, lavender gloves, and gorgeous neck ties.

We could fill a column or so with the names and description of the belles present, but we refrain, to keep from utterly overwhelming some unfortunate young man who may not have been present.

Suffice it to say that Augusta, Macon, and in fact nearly every portion of our State, were most beautifully represented, and each made its lasting impression upon the owners of some of the swallow-tails above alluded to. The various committees were most ably assisted in looking after the comfort of the ladies by the urbane Colonel Nichols.

He, however, is the only man we know of who possesses the happy faculty of being everywhere at the same time, and just when he is wanted. The thanks of all are due him. Dancing was the big thing, and hundreds of pretty feet tripped over the well waxed floor until long after midnight. The hop was, in short, the big thing of the season, and a much more enjoyable affair never was gotten up.

THE BEGINNINGS OF SICKNESS.—Never trifle with what are called small ailments. A disorder easy of control at first, if neglected for a few weeks, may become a serious and fatal disease. Be especially careful not to let debility gain upon you, for it is the door through which all maladies enter the system. If you feel languid, inert, and, to use a common expression, "as if there was no life left in you," resort at once to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That great vegetable tonic will supply the vitality you so urgently need. It is nerve food. By its tonic action the stomach is so invigorated that digestion becomes regular, easy, perfect; while its mild, cathartic properties relieve the bowels from obstructions, and its alterative operation beneficially affects all the secretive organs. For the miseries of dyspepsia—and they include almost every unpleasant feeling that belongs to physical disease and mental wretchedness—this potent tonic is a certain and speedy balm. aug20—deod1w&wlf.

Notice in Bankruptcy.

NORTHERN DISTRICT OF GEORGIA, ss. At Lexington, Oglethorpe county, Georgia, 19th day of August, 1873.

The undersigned hereby gives notice once a week for three weeks, of his appointment as Assignee of DeWitt C. A BLACK PROPHET.

An Extraordinary Religious Delusion.

A letter of a recent date from Spartanburg, South Carolina, to the Charleston News and Courier describes an extraordinary religious movement among the colored people of that section:

For the last two years a negro preacher, by the name of Bobo, has been the spiritual head and adviser of one of the largest negro congregations in this county. His church is situated about twenty miles of this place, in a dense negro settlement, and go great was the fame as a minister of the Gospel, that his members were found on all the neighboring, and some distant, plantations. Bobo is described as a negro of great ignorance, but blessed with that profusion of speech so often found in his race. He is said to be a good workman, but of very loose morals in everything but the strict keeping of the Lord's Day, and an almost austere observance of the forms of religion. He thus possessed all those qualities necessary for a leader of this people.

During the last month a kind of revival has been in progress in Bobo's church, and a few days ago it culminated in one of the greatest religious demonstrations ever seen in this part of the country. Bobo, from preaching Christ, went to preaching himself as "the new prophet high in favor." His doctrine was that the Lord had commanded him to call together the children of Zion, and lead them to the promise land, distant but one hundred and sixty miles, and where they would have wings and could fly. After much exhortation and many midnight orgies, he said that the command to march had been received, that his disciples must sell all they had, and without scrip or sword follow him. He thus persuaded some fifty or sixty to obey him. The poor deluded creatures sold crops, stock, and everything they had, at a sacrifice. One man sold his crop, said to be worth six hundred dollars, for one hundred and fifty dollars; another sold a cow and calf for one dollar and fifty cents. Nothing could dissuade them from their purpose. They said it was the command of the Lord, and they must obey.

Just before they started the prophet said there was yet one more thing to be done. It was necessary to the success of the journey the oldest person among the faithful must be sacrificed, because he being the oldest can tell the Lord most about any of us. On examination the oldest person was found to be a woman. She was taken and confined in an old outhouse until a stick of peculiar growth could be found, with which she must be killed. She did not seem to mind her danger but rather to rejoice. She certainly would have been a martyr had it not been for the neighboring whites, who had to use some show of violence to release her.

This was a damper on the prophet and his followers, but did not divert them from their purpose. Placing their smallest children and a few provisions in a two-horse wagon, they sat out on their march. On their march several attempts were made to dissuade them from their folly, but without turning to the right or left, with eyes upturned they went on without making any answers. The last heard of them they were crossing the mountains in the direction of Tennessee. This may seem like fiction, but it is true; the witnesses are here, and I have written no more than what to-day can be heard in any crowd or in any family circle of this county. The exodus is the grand theme of conversation and the wonder of the people.

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company

vs. Edward N. Kimball.—Petition to Foreclose Mortgage.

THE Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, by their Attorneys at Law, B. H. Hill & Sons, having duly filed their petition to the Superior Court at the present Term, to foreclose their Mortgage, and which petition contains a statement of the case—being a sealed bond for a debt made by Edward N. Kimball and John Rice to petitioners, and secured by a Mortgage executed by said E. N. Kimball, and the amount of petitioners' demand—being the sum of Sixty Thousand Dollars, principal debt, besides interest, cost, insurance and commissions; and, also, a description of the property Mortgaged—being the Lots Nos. 21, and part of 22, and comprising the property in the city of Atlanta, known as "Kimball Opera House;" would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supersede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incident to this climate. With but few exceptions, they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say, during that long period, not a solitary death occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from Druggists, Merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no type of FEVER, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMATISM, CHOLERA MORBUS, BILLIOUSNESS and SICK HEADACHE, or other diseases of a Southern climate, but yields readily to this preparation.

Price, 50 cents a Box.

TATE SPRINGS,

East Tennessee.

TATE SPRINGS are situated in the beautiful and fertile Bean's Station Valley, one and a half miles from Clinch Mountain, and ten miles from Morristown, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, from which point a daily mail is received. They are surrounded by magnificent mountain scenery, in one of the highest and driest sections in East Tennessee, in the immediate vicinity of Chalybeate, Alum, Red, White and Black Sulphur Waters, and, all things considered, we are bound to acknowledge in this, as in all nature, the superior wisdom of the Creator in locating this inestimable blessing to mankind.

MEANS OF ACCESS.

Arrangements have been made with the principal railroad South for round trip tickets, which may be obtained at all the large cities and towns.

DAILY LINE OF HACKS.

Contracts are made with competent and responsible parties to run a daily line of hacks from Morristown to the Springs. The hacks will be new, and of the most comfortable and modern styles, gotten up expressly for this line. They are to meet all passenger trains at the depot, and look after the comfort and accommodation of all persons passing over their line. The hacks make their trips in four hours.

Ladies and families traveling alone will be especially looked after and cared for, and their baggage also.

Hacks leave the Turley House immediately after the arrival of trains. By this means any Express or other packages can be conveyed to or from Morristown to the Springs.

ACCOMMODATIONS.

The accommodations are still being extended, so that we hope to be prepared to entertain all of our guests comfortably. Among the new improvements are—

A spacious Ball Room.
A series of Bath Rooms.
The Grounds are much improved.
A Livery Stable well stocked.

The Proprietors claim to have superior advantages over any preceding season, having all their public rooms ready at the opening of the season, a good stock of supplies on hand, and an experienced class of servants employed.

The rooms are principally cottage, with porches, fire places, and wardrobes or closets.

Good Bowling Alleys for gratuitous use of guests. In addition to which we expect to have a Band of Music.

The Proprietors assert their determination to spare no trouble or expense to render guests comfortable and to promote their improvement.

RATES OF BOARD.

The Springs are open for the reception of visitors at all times.

Per Month—June at $40, $12 00 per week, $1 75 per day. July, August and September, each, at $45 00 per month, $13 per week, $2 00 per day. October same as June.

THE WATERS.

The Water is recommended in the cure of all derangements of the stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, and diseases originating with the Organs.

OUR RESIDENT PHYSICIAN'S SPECIALITIES.

Our resident physician makes a specialty of Catarrh of the Nose, Throat and Wind Pipe, Bronchitis, a stham and Pulmonary Consumption in its first and second stages. Also many diseases of the Heart, both functional and organic, and of all the diseases for which we recommend the water, using all the modern appliances.

REGULAR SANITARIUM.

We keep a regular Sanitarium during the winter months. Water has the same effects all seasons of the year.

SHIPPING WATER.

We are now shipping large quantities of the water, and it is giving general satisfaction. We deliver it at Morristown Depot in good iron hooped barrels at $5 per barrel.

Dr. Calhoun's Liver Pills.

I AM engaged in the Manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Bilious Pills, under the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last thirty-five years, and has taken precedence over all other Family Preparations, by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supersede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incident to this climate. Atlantic Coast Line Passenger Route!

REORGANIZED FOR THE SUMMER OF 1873.

DAILY ALL RAIL CONNECTION

VIA

AUGUSTA, WILMINGTON, RICHMOND,

AND AN ADDITIONAL DAILY CONNECTION VIA

Augusta, Wilmington and Portsmouth,

AND THE

MAGNIFICENT BAY LINE STEAMERS,

CLOSE CONNECTION, WITH WHICH, IS MADE AT PORTSMOUTH, VIRGINIA.

The equipment of the Roads of this line is First-Class;

Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars Are Upon All Night Trains.

DOUBLE Daily Schedules are operated upon entire route, from New Orleans and all terminal points in Alabama and Georgia.

By taking morning train out of Savannah, Macon or Atlanta, passengers connect with the 5:50 P. M. train out of Augusta, and can choose between all the connections via Richmond, or the route up Chesapeake Bay, having, in the latter case,

But One Night Railway Travel

NO CHANGE OF CARS BETWEEN AUGUSTA AND WILMINGTON.

Elegant Palace Day and Sleeping Cars run through without change from Weldon to Baltimore.

Through Tickets to all prominent points on sale by both routes at all terminal points South. Also, full line of Virginia Springs and Excursion Tickets to Attractive summer Resorts.

Through Tickets to Cincinnati and all principle points West via Richmond and Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

Buy Your Tickets via Wilmington, and be Sure They Read that Way.

And be assured you will make close connections—this being the most certain and reliable route.

Remember that this is the Only Route that Gives the Bay Line Connection.
